

10 SHOW OFF

Today is your day.

SEASON
1

WEEK
10

FOCUS
CONFIDENCE

KEY PHRASE

“I am enough.”

SUMMARY

The Show Off, where fighters demonstrate their skills for their peers. The coach reminds them it's okay if the combination isn't perfect, and encourages them to cheer on their teammates. Training reviews punches 1 through 6, adds the slip and roll, runs the basic combinations, then duos show off. The season closes with post assessments, jump rope endurance and the 100-punch speed test, a group shout-out, and the post-survey as the last activity.

MATERIALS

- Mitts & gloves
- Jump ropes
- Speaker · the Week 1 and Week 2 songs
- Fighter journals · one per fighter
- Writing utensils

OBJECTIVES

By the end of this practice, fighters will:

Show off a 10-move combination that includes each of the boxing movements learned so far to peers

COACH MESSAGE

15 MIN

SAY

Today is YOUR day. It's the Show Off, and you've been working hard for this all season. You're going to show your teammates all the boxing skills you've learned over the past 10 weeks.

Today is also about being strong and not giving up. If you feel like you might not get the combination perfect, that's okay. Take a breath and keep going. You've practiced this, and you're ready. Fighters are unstoppable, and you've been proving that all along. You've got this.

And when your teammates are up there, cheer them on. It takes a lot of courage to get up in front of everyone. Be the kind of friend who lifts others up, just like you want to be lifted up.

You'll show your combination for two minutes. The last 30 seconds is all-out 1s and 2s only, just like your burnout.

INTENTIONS

5 MIN

SAY

Today's guiding question: what is your intention for the Show Off today?

Every fighter shares. End each intention with snap clap.

TRAINING

25 MIN

REVIEW PUNCHES 1 through 6

- Fighters line up shoulder to shoulder.
- Call 1 through 6, predictably then unpredictably.
- Correct form on the spot, this is the last look before they perform.

ADD SLIP AND ROLL Defense

- Mix slip and roll into the punch calls.
- Watch for hands dropping and eyes leaving the front.

PRACTICE THE 10-MOVE COMBINATION Partners

- Fighters pair up with the partner they built the combination with.
- Shadow the full 10-move combination first, slowly, until both fighters have the whole pattern.
- Take it to the mitts and run it clean, then run it at performance speed. Switch roles.
- Circulate and give one correction per pair, this is the last rep before they perform it.

DUOS SHOW OFF Two minutes per pair

- Fighters sit while each pair shows off their combination for two minutes.
- Partners switch roles after the first two minutes. Coach times each pair.
- The last 30 seconds of each two minutes is all-out straight punches, 1 · 2 · 1 · 2...
- Fighters cheer one another on.

□ BURNOUT · POST ASSESSMENT

10 MIN

POST Two numbers close the season, both matched to Week 1 and Week 2. Record the jump rope on page 56 and the punch count on page 57, so every fighter can see her own change.

JUMP ROPE ENDURANCE Post

- Same song as Week 1, 2:30–3:00 at 140–150 BPM.
- Record her maximum jumps and whether she went the full song without stopping, page 56.
- A fighter who stops more than twice sits down, as in Week 1.

100-PUNCH SPEED TEST Post

- Same song and format as Weeks 2 and 6. Partner holds mitts; each fighter throws 100 clean punches, 50 1 · 2 combinations.
- Fighters count their own punches; the partner confirms. Full punches only, counted honestly.
- Note one form observation for each fighter, the thing she should keep working on next season. Log on page 57.

JRNL FIGHTER'S MINDSET JOURNAL

JOURNAL P. 15-16 5 MIN

Say: Turn to page 15 in your journal.

- The end-of-season survey runs across two pages, the front and back of one sheet. Fighters fill in both sides.
- Last activity of the day, after shout-outs, at peak confidence.
- When both sides are done, fighters tear the sheet out along the dashed line and hand it to you.

□ SHOUT-OUTS

10 MIN

- Coach gives a group shout-out for completing the season.
- Individual shout-outs follow, each ending with snap clap.
